Assignment

Using what we've learned about respect/validate so far, update the postShowRegisterPage() function in PageController.php so that the form values submitted must pass the following rules:

1) first_name must be at least three characters long;
2) last_name must be at least three characters long;
3) email must be a valid email address;
4) verify_email must match email;
5) password must be at least three characters long;
6) verify_password must match password.

If the validation fails, just use print_r($errors) to write the array of error messages to the screen. If it passes, you should save the new user to the database.

Good luck!
